SCIENCE HEALER TO BE TRIED! COURT CALLS HEALING FOR MONEY BUSINESS, NOT RELIGION

Certified Christian Science Healer Held to Have Violated the Public Health Law, Not Being a Qualified Practitioner of Medicine Under the Law.

Willis Vernon Cole, the young Christian Science practitioner who has been singled out by the County Medical Society to test the legal standing of the Science healers, learned yesterday that he must stand trial before the Court of Special Sessions on a charge of practising medi-cine without a license. Magistrate Freschi after two weeks consideration of the summons proceedings before him held practitioner Cole under a nominal bail and gave his reasons in a carefully prepared opinion.

Mr. Jerome and his client and Attor. ney Almuth C. Vandiver, who represented the County Medical Society, were there, but the fashionably dressed group of Scientists that had formed the gallery in the police court proceedings were not

"Your Honor, can I continue my prac-tice?" asked Mr. Cole when the case was

"You'll have to learn that from your lawyer," the Magistrate replied. According to Eugene R. Cox of the publication committee of the Christian Science Church the police court holding will have no effect on the church practices. When asked yesterday afternoon whether practitioners would suspend collecting money for healing while the case is pending before the higher courts Mr. Cox replied that there would be no change in the Scientists' policy.

"It is the opinion of the presiding Magistrate," he said, "that there should be a court hearing on the case. It is his opinion and not even binding on another Magistrate. We are adequately protected by the exemption clause in the medical law, which was put in by the County Medical Society at our request, for the bill would not have passed without it. The law protects us and so the courts will decide.

The public health law requires that a person practising medicine shall be licensed, and holds that "a person pracof strategy to-day is expected to harmonize the different commanders in the engaged at present and that a place will be given him in the Cabinet or that he will be made Vice-President in case Senor Corral resigns.
